COMPENSATION TRUSTS FOR THOSE CARING FOR OTHERS

When a person requires help with their future plans due to their injuries, our experienced professionals' help and advice becomes important for partners, family and friends. Dealing directly with the Court of Protection and Office of the Public Guardian can often present significant difficulties and complexity that will delay dealing with a compensation award.

Stamp Jackson & Procter's trusts specialists have a range of services to help.

To ensure you remain in control and can deal quickly and effectively with the administration of those you care for, Stamp Jackson & Procter's trusts specialists have a range of services to help.

The services focus on

- Minimising costs
- Reducing delays
- Maximising investment returns
- Providing impartial advice

All these features are intended to provide clear and open accountability where you are responsible for caring for both the injured person and their assets. The details will depend on the particular circumstances and we are happy to discuss how our compensation trusts will suit your position.
